25X1 unclassified material could be pulled together and I indicated there appeared to be no problem from the congressional angle in making this available for [] use in testifying before an Appropriations Committee with respect to the budget for American participation in the Trade Fair.

6. Mr. William Macomber, State Department, telephoned advising that Mr. Robert Murphy was planning to have a meeting in the U. S. of a number of leaders of the resistance during World War II in conjunction with the Veterans of Strategic Services. Macomber wished to know the members of Congress who were OSS members. He was furnished the names of Emilio G. Daddario (D., Conn.), John Blatnik (D., Minn.), Victor Anfuso (D., New York), Stuyvesant Wainwright (R., New York), and Robert L. F. Sikes (D., Fla.).

25X1 7. [] met with Messrs. Johnson and Carper of the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee staff and discussed further Agency suggestions on H. R. 5007, the Overseas Allowances Act. The staff members accepted our suggestions which are to be incorporated in a Committee Print for use by the Committee in the hearings on Wednesday, 10 June.

25X1 8. Met with Messrs. [] (Personnel) and [] (Comptroller) to discuss developments on H. R. 5007. They were in accord with our suggestions and felt that the bill would be very desirable for the Agency. 25X1

25X1 9. Called Walter Besterman of the House Immigration Subcommittee staff to query him concerning the [] bill. Besterman indicated that the bill had been discussed again at length in a Subcommittee meeting today. He pointed out that Chairman Francis Walter was out undergoing minor surgery and in his absence Congressman Michael Feighan (who originally suggested the addition of [] in the bill) was in the chair. 25X1 Besterman said the discussion was both complete and heated. The result was that Feighan expressed the feeling that Life Magazine had already 25X1 compromised the [] involved and, therefore, the inclusion of the
